English

Maths

Science

Minimum of ONE a week

Option Subjects Generally ONE a week but due to the varying demands of Key Stage 4 courses, a more flexible homework programme will be operated.

Coursework deadlines, unit tests, extended assignments, investigations and fieldwork may alter the amount of homework set in different subjects at various times of the year.

The nature of homework can vary e.g. written, reading, research, learning, preparation for oral work etc. and each type may take a different length of time to complete.

When homework is an extended piece of coursework, it should be broken down into appropriate sections and handed in to be assessed on a regular basis.
